Where to Eat and What to Visit – Woodley Park, DC (Sept. 6-9, 2022)

Welcome to the District of Columbia, CFSY community! This week, you're staying at the storied Omni Shoreham hotel (2500 Calvert St. NW) in DC's beautiful Woodley Park neighborhood. Below is a list of places to eat within walking distance of the hotel, and below that is a list of the most popular tourist attractions in the city should you want to explore (including the National Zoo, which is right up the road from the hotel). Woodley Park itself has everything you should need, but three other wonderful neighborhoods are close by if you want to check them out. Adams Morgan is directly east (walking down Calvert Street), Cleveland Park is directly north (walking up Connecticut Avenue), and Dupont Circle is directly south (walking down Connecticut Avenue). Enjoy your time in our lovely city and if you have any questions about where to go or how to get there, feel free to call or text Karmah at 202-341-9500.

THINGS TO DO

The Smithsonian National Zoo is located just a ten minute walk away from the hotel, and is free and open to the public from 8 AM to 6 PM daily. Timed passes are required and can be reserved online (at no cost) by visiting <https://nationalzoo.si.edu>.

In downtown DC, the National Mall is home to many other free Smithsonian museums, and most of the major monuments and memorials in the city. It is also home to the United States Capitol Building, the United States Supreme Court, and the Library of Congress.

You can get (relatively close) to all of these by taking the Red Line Metro from the Woodley Park stop. Hop on a “Glenmont” train and disembark at the Judiciary Square stop. Metro cards can be purchased at any station.
